PUBLIC OPINION

THE PEOPLE'S COMPLIMENTS

DISGUISED On the morning of the 4th I took Haven, to visit some friends and was agreeably surprised to see how royally the company serve their patrons. quickly found a large space on a seat where only six sat, whose average weight seemed to be from 157 to 190 pounds. On my left was a fair maiden. some 60 or 65 years of age. Being partial to the fair sex (as my age is only 47 reversed) I said in a winning tone: "The company seems to favor us; just see what a vast amount of spare room they give us." We started. served for them in the laps of those who had been put there for their especial accommodation. Still to look shame. Near the viaduct, we made another step and 32 piled in and took reserved seats as those before them which come under the executive man-ed the corner of Barnum and Nobles avenues, all these seats were taken. Still there seemed to be a large amount of room going to waste. At East Main street a great crowd was waiting to go with us, but the conductor said, "No more reserved seats," but looking forward to the northeast corner of the car, I saw there were two seats, second from the front. I told him of this, so he singled out a young man and his girl, and we passed them over the heads of those in front until they took reserved seats on the laps of two good natured Germans, who said "das is goot." The conductor said to the others: "I have good seats standing up between the lap seats and backs of those in front, so they took advantage of this, and before reaching Stratford, everyone of these seats were taken. Still there was plenty of room which was foolishly being carried along useless, the running boards were nearly vacant, but at Devon some 50 or 60 were furnished closely packed with joyous humanity. Still there was room to spare, so I said to our conductor, (as I was friendly to the company), and hated to see him boards down on the other side; then you can seat 50 more, which will put our car on even keel, and help you on any surplus you may need to turn in to show a fair earning for your car." FATHER MOLLOY'S FIRST HIGH MASS the 8:30 trolley for a trip to West Large Congregation Assists at Church of the Sacred Heart.

> Sermon By Rev. Maurice Mc-Auliffe of St. Thomas' Seminary - Curacy for New Priest at Milford.

> Rev. Thomas J. Molloy celebrated his first solemn high mass yesterday at Sacred Heart church at 1:80, He as assisted by Rev. R. F. Moore, L.D.D., as arch priest; Rev. James F. Barrett, deacon; Rev. Mr. Ball of Ro chester, N. Y., sub-deacon; Rev. Mr. Manning of Hartford, master of ceremonies; James McCormick of Ansonia thurifer; Edward Gaffney and Francis Hinchey, acolytes.

The church was filled with relatives and friends who had come to be pres ent at the first solemn high mass o the newly ordained levite, and to join in prayer with him that he be successful in his ministerial duties

Rev. Maurice McAuliffe of St. Thomas Seminary, Hartford, preached a ok as his text:

Thou art a Priest Forever. The preacher dwelt on the life of a priest, what his duties were, to go and preach the true gospel of our Lord, to to offer up sacrifice and to teach peo-ple the different dogmas of the Roman Catholic religion. He congratulated Fr. Molloy's parents on their son being elevated to the sacerdotal life and asked the congregation to pray that he be successful in fulfilling the sacred mission which he has chosen

After mass, Fr. Molloy inparted his blessing to the congregation. In the afternoon a reception tendered the young priest at his home on Austin street, where he was the ecipient of many gifts. Rev. Father Molloy has been assigned by Bishop Nilan to St. Mary's, where he will assist Rev. Father McClean, the rector. WHAT MAKES MILK

AND BUTTER YELLOW?

The Kind of Feed More Important Than the Kind of Breed, Experiments

Show.

Washington, July 5—That the rich yellow color demanded by the public in dairy products is primarily due to the character of the cow's feed is demonstrated by recent experiments carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Missouri State Experiment Station. For some years dairy experts have been studying this question. Their conclusion is that, although to some extent a breed characteristic, the intensity of this yellow color may, within certain limits, be increased or diminished at will by changing the animal's rations.

Chemical tests show that the yellow pigment in milk consists of several well-known pigments found in green plants. Of these the principal one is the carotin, so called because it constitutes abundant in yellow autumn leave
